JAMES SWIFT

Director of Photography

Ten years of camera operating on a diverse range of tv dramas, most recently on the forthcoming major BBC epic 'SS GB' means it's now time for James to step up a level. He's proved himself on two recent features, 'Bloodlands' for which he was awarded the Best Cinematography prize at Screampfest 2014 and the forthcoming 'Habit', due to be released Autumn 2016. Well-liked and well-regarded, James is also increasingly busy working in the world of commercials, promos and corporates. He is based in London and available for work worldwide.
