

ANDREW BOULTER

Director of Photography

Over more than twenty years, Andy has shot countless commercials, music videos and corporates, working in over twenty countries. Now moving into drama, he has short films, a tv series and some topline 2nd unit work behind him. He's worked with some of the top directors in the field, nothing phases him, and he brings experience, capability, and a user-friendliness that few can match. Based close to London, he relishes the prospect of working just about anywhere.
