

PAUL MUNN*Producer / Line Producer*

Paul Munn brings a wealth of experience. Starting out in the camera department and then moving on to production management, line producing, and now series producing, he's worked on features and scripted television at pretty much all budget levels. Along the way, he's acquired detailed knowledge of funding, distribution and co-production deals, and he's broad-shouldered enough to handle whatever even the most challenging productions might throw at him. Based in the northwest, he's worked all over the UK and Europe, and is happy to go where the work takes him.
